

1. The first group of respondents (Group 1) consisted of 100 individuals who were randomly selected from the general population. They were surveyed via telephone interviews.

2. The second group (Group 2) consisted of 150 individuals who were recruited from local community centers and public libraries. They were surveyed via face-to-face interviews.

3. The third group (Group 3) consisted of 200 individuals who were recruited from online social media platforms. They were surveyed via email questionnaires.

4. The fourth group (Group 4) consisted of 120 individuals who were recruited from university students. They were surveyed via classroom presentations.

5. The fifth group (Group 5) consisted of 80 individuals who were recruited from professional associations. They were surveyed via conference presentations.

6. The sixth group (Group 6) consisted of 60 individuals who were recruited from government agencies. They were surveyed via official correspondence.

7. The seventh group (Group 7) consisted of 40 individuals who were recruited from non-profit organizations. They were surveyed via volunteer meetings.

8. The eighth group (Group 8) consisted of 30 individuals who were recruited from religious institutions. They were surveyed via church services.

9. The ninth group (Group 9) consisted of 20 individuals who were recruited from academic institutions. They were surveyed via research seminars.

10. The tenth group (Group 10) consisted of 10 individuals who were recruited from private businesses. They were surveyed via business meetings.

Scott R. Wilson

2826

INTERFERENCE SEARCHED
Class	Subclass	Date	Examiner

[illegible]